VOLUME CX.-NO. 255

ALEXANDRIA, VA. THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 4, 1909.

PRICE 2 CENTS

A Bold Step.
To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merit, and made them remedies of known composition.
By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that he is not afraid of such exposure as this is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.
Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, liver or biliousness and all curable diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a strong book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral acids or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, or indolent men, are the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's favorite Prescription for women, which is a most valuable remedy for correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

ASSAULTED IN HUSBAND'S PRESENCE.
With her husband bound hand and foot, powerless to interfere or rescue her, Mrs. Albert Rockhold, wife of Albert Rockhold, a railroad employee living near Gasaway, Braxton county, W. Va., was assaulted by three negroes in her husband's presence Tuesday night. The Rockholds' house is situated on a hill high above the railroad and far removed from other houses.
Entering the house without disturbing either Rockhold or his wife, the three negroes awakened Rockhold and demanded his money. After obtaining this they secured his arms and legs and gagged him. After remaining for about an hour, two of the negroes went outside and for the rest of the night stood guard while the remaining negro of the trio compelled Mrs. Rockhold to submit to him at the point of a revolver.
Between 6 and 7 o'clock Rockhold, under the pretext of having to go to work, succeeded in persuading the negroes to release him, but not until he had promised not to inform the authorities of their crime.
Even after he left for Gasaway to obtain assistance the three remained and ill treated Mrs. Rockhold, whom her husband had been forced to leave alone. After the awful experience through which she had passed they compelled her to cook breakfast. As they left they told her they were going to wreck a passenger train.
When Rockhold and the police had hastily gathered reached the Rockhold home the negroes had fled. Presuming that they would go north, the posse followed along the railroad and caught up with one of the three at Exchange, about eight miles from Gasaway.
Ordered, this negro first attempted to leap from a window in Gerwig's store and, with his escape shut off there, reached toward his hip as if draw on his pursuers. Rockhold was leading the posse and, before the negro had a chance to pull the revolver from his pocket, fired, killing the negro instantly.
The other negroes, who had been separated from the man that was killed, had been seen at Barnsville between 8 and 9 o'clock, following the Elk river up its course toward Webster county. Another posse was organized and followed the negroes up this river. Up to a late hour last night they had not succeeded in catching the negroes, as the hills on both sides of the river are densely wooded.
Mrs. Rockhold's condition is said not to be critical. Mr. and Mrs. Rockhold had been married a little more than a year, and have one child.

BOY MURDERER.
The police authorities of Cleveland, Ohio, have been thrown into a quandary by a confession from Alva Cohn, 17 years old, that he murdered little Alexander Hoeng two years ago. The boy first confessed to the murder Monday. That night he retracted when the police accused him of fabricating the story.
Yesterday, in his room at the Boys' Detention Home, he wrote a lengthy description of the crime and addressed it to Juvenile Judge Adams.
He enticed the child, he said, into an alleyway in the rear of a Sovell avenue butcher shop, owned by one Benjamin Cohn.
"I asked him if he had any money," wrote Cohn. "He said 'no.'"
"I started to search him and he screamed. Then I started down, picked up a handful of shavings and rubbed them across his face. I let him drop to the floor and walked around for three-quarters of an hour and came back, thinking he had gotten up and gone home. I saw him lying there and I got scared. I felt his heart; it was not beating. Then I staggered, caught myself without falling. A cold sweat broke out all over my body. I shook like a leaf. I knew he was dead and my next impulse was to conceal the body. I picked him up, threw him in the barrel headfirst. Then I climbed over fences till I was three doors from there."
The boy said he had not been able to sleep through an entire night since the crime.
The autopsy on the body of the Hoeng child showed that he had been choked to death with sweat and shavings picked up in the rear yard of the Cohn butcher shop. The doctors asserted that they found traces of frost in the flesh, indicating that the body had been in a cold place, such as an icebox.
Fifty years' experience of an Old Nurse—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is the prescription of one of the best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and has been used for fifty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. It relieves the child from pain, cures diarrhea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child, it rests the mother. Twenty-five cents a bottle, 50c a dozen.
